Special Thanks to....

This production is the largest production of POPS to date at Pinnacle and had a lot of aspects for which much help was needed. We are all grateful to every person who helped repair and sew costumes, brought food, printed photos, helped wrangle kids, and even sometimes was just present so I had another adult I could look knowingly at when teenagers were being teenagers. This list is by no means complete, but all of these people are ICONS to this program.

ASU Intern Brie Salomon, who has helped me immeasurably the past semester and has quickly made her mark on this program and these students. Thank you for your passion, your dedication, your fun spirit, and expertise.

This year marks the culmination of my 18th year of teaching! It's astounding to me that I've been in this one career for this long a time, but here we are! I also never expected to be teaching in one place for as long as I have at Pinnacle, but all of you parents, your children, and the community at Pinnacle have made this home for me. I am grateful to each and every person that has had, or will have, ties to this program, and I hope to continue those ties for many years. From the bottom of my heart, thank you parents for trusting me with your most valued treasure. And to my students from the past 18 years, thank you for being a part of my journey. You are all ICONS in my book!
